

Truly Drug Free

漏 Elle M.

Published: July 2011

*I was there when you fell in the ditch,
I was there when cocaine made you itch.
I was there upon your first cry.
I was there when you wanted to know why.*

*I watched you get hurt and learn.
I know why the fire still burns.*

*I have seen you at your worst and your best.
I have let the devil put you through the test.
I was there when your son was born.
I was there when your heart was torn.*

*I am with you now, I have never left.
Being clean now, I expect your best.
I have loved you, my son, with every breath.
I am the way home, your light, your best.*

*I have a job for you when you are free.
It will be to put your talents to work for me.
You will work with others just like you.
Those that have been through hell and came shining through!*

*You see, you know how to persuade and make others believe.
Now you will do it for honor, love and dignity.
I will give you strength, courage and love.
You will give me pride and happiness, but the best of these, is love.*

I have plans for you son, I have joy to share.
Forgiveness to express, a full heart that cares.

You will now understand all that can be.
The highest high you will ever be,
is the day you say...
I am in the Lord, and he in me.

Today's the day, I am truly free!

Father.

Source: <https://www.familyfriendpoems.com/poem/truly-drug-free>